History

Padmeshwara Temple is located at Kunigal Town, Kunigal Taluk, Tumakuru district

The Padmesvara temple is a neat structure in the Hoysala style. It consists of a garbhagriha, a sukanasi and a navaranga. Of the two cells at the sides of the sukanasi doorway, the right cell has a figure of Ganapati, the other one contains Parvati. The navaranga has four pillars of granite, having cubical mouldings and connected by sixteen-fluted shafts with wheel moulding above. The east door of the navaranga has no porch, while the south one appears to have had a porch. The ceilings of the navaranga, about 50 cm deep, are carved with lotuses. The outer walls are decorated with pilasters. The garbhagriha of the temple has a medium-sized linga on a fine pedestal.
