History

Two Jain statues of Bahubali and Mahaveera are installed on an open platform. The Bahubali statute is in a standing posture. The eyes of the statue are widely open the mukhamudra of the statute is pleasant and peaceful. At the left side of the Bahubali is an idol of Mahaveera in Padmasana. Mahaveera is seated on his lion throne. He is in the attitude of meditation. His both hands are in Dhayana or yoga mudra. At the neck portion is a prabhamandala. On his either side are chouri bearers.
