History

The Venugopala Swamy temple is located at Keretonnur village in Pandavapura taluk, Mandya District

The temple is popularly called as Parthasarathi or Krishna temple, is quite a large structure of the times of the Hoysalas. It is built in a large prakara, and consists of girbhagriha, sukanasi, navaranga, mukhamantapa. The vimana is of dravida type. The adhithana of the temple has fine Vyalamalas and sikhara is quite interesting one for its design. In the girbhagriha is the idol of Krishna as the Parthasarathi. The deity is seated in sukhasana posture having four arms with regular attributes. The Navaranga has wall nine ankanas with floral decorative designs.
