History

Ranganatha temple is located at Shettikere village, Chikkanayakanahalli Taluk, Tumakuru district.

The temple consists of a garbhagriha with two cells at the sides, in which are placed the images of Sridevi and Bhudevi. The garbhagriha has a standing figure, about 1 m high, of Vishnu, holding a discus and conch in the upper hands and a bow and an arrow in the lower ones. The images in the Ranganatha temple are of very rude workmanship and belong possibly to be late Vijayanagara period. (The Ranganatha temple is believed to be later than the Yoga-Madhava temple in the same place)
