History

The Varadarajaswamy temple is located at Hebbur village in Tumkur taluk, Tumakuru district.

This temple is a small structure consisting of a garbhagriha, a sukanasi, a navaranga with a verandah all round. There are two rooms on either side of the sukanasi. The left room, which is empty, opens into the sukanasi and was perhaps used for keeping temple articles. The right room opens into the navaranga and has the figure of the Goddess.

The image of Varadaraja is about 60 cm high and stands on a 60 cm high pedestal. The figure holds conch and discus in the backhands, while in the front left hand is a mace. The front right hand is in varada pose. The Goddess is sitting, holding a lotus in each of its upper hands, the lower hands, being in the abhaya and varada pose.
