History

This east-facing temple consists of a garbhagraha, antarala, sabhamaandapa and Mukhamandapa. The garbhagraha has a Sivalinga. The doorframe of the garbhagraha is trishakha. There are four free standing pillars in the sabhamandapa. The lower portion of the pillars is decorated with richly carved sculptures. Inside the sabhamandapa are nine devakosthas. The sculptures of Mahishamardhini, saptamatraka, surya and kartikeya are kept in the devakosthas. The temple has a adhithana. In the centre of the sabhamanda is a seated Nandi. In front of the temple is an inscription dated 1136-38 A.D. It registers the gift of land grant by bagiyara bachanna to the god machesvaradeva.
