

15. Varadaraja Temple

Place - Heggadadevanakote

District : Mysore

Taluk : Heggadadevanakote

Locality : Heggadadevanakote

Geo - Coordinates:

Lat : 12.086732° N

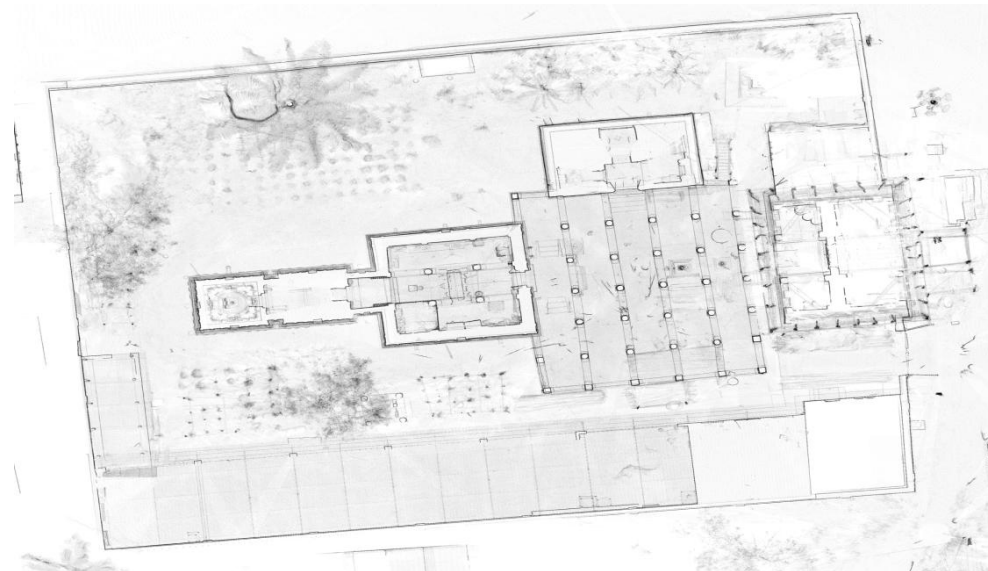

Long : 76.326723° E

History

The Varadaraja Temple is located in H.D.Kote town in Mysuru district. This temple, a large structure with a lofty Mahadwara, consists of a garbhagriha, sukhanasi and a navaranga. The outer walls of the garbhagriha and sukhanasi have pilasters and niches at intervals. Two elegantly executed pilasters on the north and south are each surmounted by a pavilion containing figures of animals. The gilt kalasa bears an inscription in inverted characters, which have to be read with the help of a mirror. Accordingly, the kalasa was presented by the Palegar Heggode. Among the noteworthy articles in the temple is the big brass lamp in 9 tiers. The goddess of the temple is a seated figure with a bowed-head. The sukhanasi and the outer walls are decorated in different colours. The 4' high exquisite sculpture of Varadaraja is housed in the garbhagriha.

3D Point Cloud

Plan