History

The Anantapadmanabha Temple is located at Budanur village in Mandya taluk and District

The Anantapadmanabha Temple is an ekakuta dravida vimana temple built on Jagati. It has rectangular girbhagriha, sukanasi and Navaranga and mukhamantapa. The deity is standing in Samabhangana on a pedestal. It is a fine example of Hoysala art. The pillars in the Navaranga are latheturned ones with capitals. On the outer walls, ornamentation is restricted only to the architectural features.
