History

The temple consists of a garbhagraha and two mukhamandapas, each with their arched façade, of Ashlar Masonry. The garbhagraha contains a face of the saint madivala. It is decorated with braze and silver. The front mukhamandapa is built perhaps by another devote sometime after the construction of the original structure containing a shrine and a mukhamandapa with arched façade. Otherwise, the three-arched façade for the inner mukhamandapa is superfluous. This madivalappa, the local people say, is the name celebrated madivalada machiah, one of the famous Shivasharanas of the 12th C. A.D. And this is his birth place.
