History

This is a trikuta temple. It comprises three garbhagrhas each with an antaralas, a common sabhamandapa and a mukhamandapa. Each garbhgraha enshrined a Sivalinga. On either side of the east facing garbhagrha door is a Saiva dvarapala. In the sabhamandapa are four free standing pillars, and four empty Kosthas. In the mukhamandapa are four free standing pillars, and Kaksasanas. This temple is in good condition.
